The Word on the Street

By Tom Crouch,
Economic Development Director
for the City of Lawrence

THE CITY OF LAWRENCE (Indiana's best kept secret)

The City of Lawrence is a City of 43,000 people yet few people know where it is exactly located. Its population makes it Indiana's 17th or 18th largest City comparable to Richmond, or Columbus, but it is almost unknown. This is in part because it is almost entirely surrounded by Indianapolis, and lies totally within a Township by the same name. To even confuse matters more City of Lawrence citizens vote for two Mayors, and two Councils. How can you tell if you live in the City of Lawrence?

You probably live in the City of Lawrence if:

You live west of Carroll Road, north of 42nd St, east of Shadeland Ave, south and east of Fall Creek Blvd, and south of 79th St. If you are still not sure consult neighborhood map on the City's web page www.cityoflawrence.org

Here are some other facts that make the City of Lawrence unique. Thanks to Fort Harrison State Park, and an abundance of local parks it has one of the highest percentages of land area devoted to parks of any City in Indiana. On a snowy day it is easy to see the boundaries of the City because of the conscientious way the City plows streets. The City of Lawrence is growing at over 1% a year, and is the fastest growing City inside Marion County. The City has added over 1000 jobs in the last 12 months, which is consistent with past years. The City has one of the highest rates of sewer and water accessibility in the State. The City has a much lower crime rate than surrounding areas. Most neighborhoods in the City are served with sidewalks or trails. It's July 4th festival and fireworks is one of the County's best. The City has excellent interstate access with 2 exits within the City and 3 nearby.

In short the City of Lawrence has it all as a play to live, work, and play, and with all its improvements the future only looks brighter.
